

Top-notch Chevys emerge for Fairway show

The Heinrich family, owners of Fairway Chevrolet, teamed up with the Las Vegas Corvettes Association to host an All-Chevrolet Car Show Sunday, Oct. 11, with all funds raised going to the YMCA.

"This type of thing hasn't been done in the last eight years," said Don Kot, new car manager at Fairway.

Many beautiful and unusual cars and trucks were on display for the public to view, as well as food, refreshments and raffle prizes.

— Andy Saylor

The 2010 Chevrolet Camaro's design pays homage to the car's vintage body style.

The front emblem on this 1958 Corvette is so shiny, it could be mistaken for a new car.

ALL PHOTOS BY ANDY SAYLOR
This bright-purple bucket roadster got its share of attention at the show.

This Chevy-powered 1954 Rolls-Royce Princess sat pretty at the show, which raised more than $8,000 for the YMCA of Southern Nevada.

There was certainly no shortage of Corvettes at the Las Vegas Corvettes Association-sponsored show. Several of the powerful sports cars lined up across the parking lot.

Nick Montana admires the shine on the hood of his custom built 1953 Corvette replica.